

Key City Personnel Under Fire on Sewer Plan

Climax Expected Tonight

Fireworks are expected tonight when the Palm Springs City Council goes into session after what was termed as a heated meeting last night from which the press was barred.

Originally called as a "special meeting to discuss the sewer plan," Mayor Frank Bogert closed the door on the press saying that the session had been changed to an executive session "to discuss personnel."

After the press left the building, the council excused members of the administration that were present, and rumors have it that council members discussed the firing of key city personnel.

AND AFTER the "closed session," the members of the Administration, City Manager Robert W. Peterson, Director of Public Works Frank Hammerschlag, administrative Assistant Richard De Long and Director of Finance Shelby Langford, went back into the conference room where detailed plans were discussed concerning the sewer plant.

No direct information as to what happened in the "closed session" was disclosed today.

IN THE REGULAR session of the City Council tonight in the council chambers at the City Hall, councilmen plan to take several steps to forward the sewer plant work. The steps, as released by the City Manager today, are:

- (1) To levy the Sewer tax and add it to the tax rolls;
- (2) To consider the approval of the present sewer plant site for the installation of plant in the far southeast corner of the land;
- (3) To authorize a complete treatment plant;
- (4) To have settling beds for the surplus water supply;
- (5) To authorize engineers to proceed with plans to start construction of the plant.

EVEN WITH A preliminary discussion and a so-called "agreement" by the council, certain members of the council are not happy with the plan as proposed for tonight. Councilwoman Ruth Hardy today took the strongest stand in favor of the plan start immediately, and Councilman Florian G. Boyd agreed, but according to Boyd the trouble before the council is due to the action of some "inexperienced kids who are running around in circles" and causing trouble.

On the other hand, two councilmen are strongly opposed to the plan which will be before the council tonight. Councilman Leonard Wolf said this morning that the plan "stinks" and Councilman George Beebe, who served as a member of the special sewer committee, said that he did "not like the plan at all."

STRONG TALK from a councilman this morning hinted at a possible taxpayers suit against the city for not continuing with plans as promised during the sewer election. Namely the moving of the plant from the area of the Veterans Tract.

Other councilmen believe that by moving the plant further into the area of the city-owned property and the construction of a park to the northwest, keeps this promise.

Councilman Ted McKinney, who is councilman for the district directly affected by the sewer plan proposition, said today "I don't think the moving of the plant on the present site is the best—but, it is not real bad. I think we should have a rendering of what the plant and site will look like and let the people tell us if it's satisfactory."

Mayor Frank Bogert took a solid stand in favor of proceeding with the plant on the present site. He indicated that he was not worried about the reclaimed water and said "it is possible that within a few years the city will receive bids on the possible purchase of the water. Water is an important commodity in the desert and can easily be used."

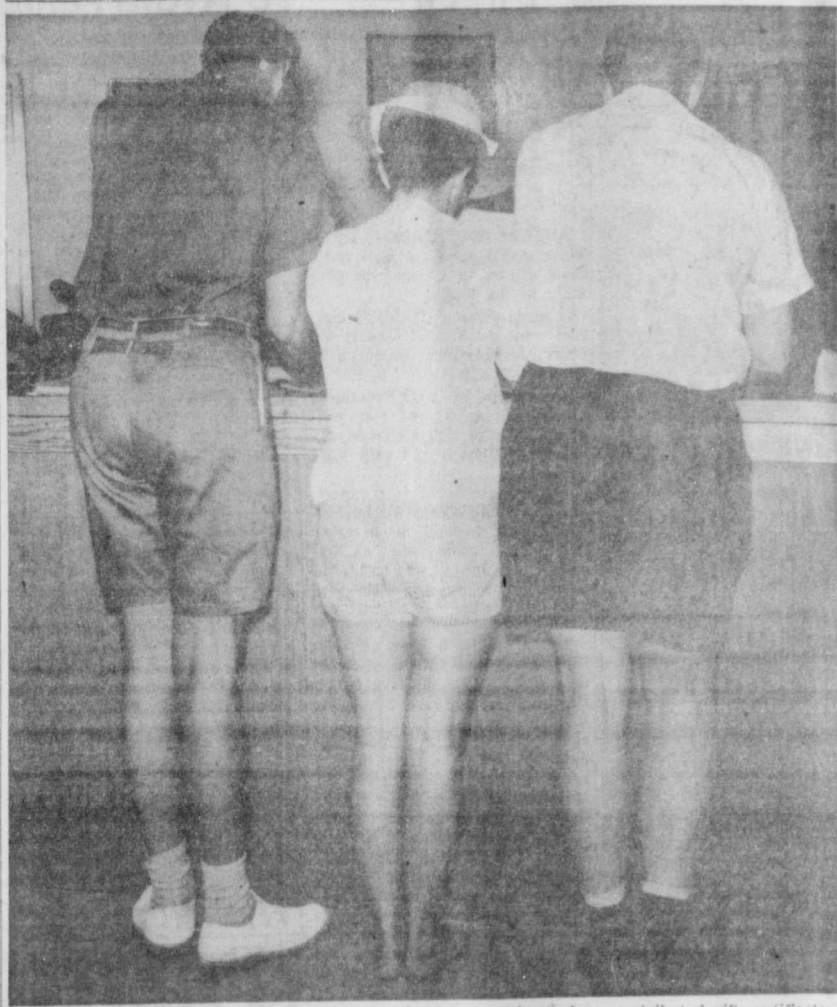

IN CONTRAST to the other councilman, Councilwoman Mary Carlin said today that she "is undecided" on the site and as to the method of getting rid of the water.

Every indication for tonight's session of the Council shows that the sewer proposition will be up for a long argumentative discussion, and with the council so greatly divided on the issue, they themselves believe that an answer will be hard to come by.

IT'S TIME TO SIGN UP in the second annual Palm Springs Gams Contest, a hilarious pageant designed to find the man and woman with the shapeliest shanks in the resort area. Whether they're bony, hairy or just plain knock-kneed, your gams might be the underpins that win. Just follow the lead of these three leggy citizens, and sign a Gams Contest entry blank for a full night of fun at the Chi Chi Starlite Room Sept. 4. Village merchants have contributed gift certificates to the men and women with the shapeliest, hairiest, most beautiful legs, most beautiful ankles, boniest knees and the like. Judged by members of the opposite sex, contestants will parade behind screens which reveal only the underpinning. Everyone from the age of 18 to 80 are invited to parade their gams in this original Village pageant. (Desert Sun Photo)

Planners to Get Section 30 Map On Wednesday

Palm Springs Planning Commission next Wednesday will hold a hearing on the Master Street Plan and land use for the city's newly annexed Section 30 at the southeast city limits.

Annexed by the City Council to stop "unsightly development" the land use plan as outlined by the Planning Staff will propose "at least one new type of use in the resort city."

Proposed is the establishment of an industrial Park zone, to be located next to the mountains and immediately south of the suggested commercial area. This Industrial Park area will be self-contained within the cove formed by the mountains.

THIS AREA would have been suitable for residential uses except for the fact that commercial zones are already established close at hand, and according to Planning Director Herman Ranes these uses do and will continue to influence the future development of the immediate area.

The mountains and the existing commercial uses will allow the Industrial Park zone to be screened from the residential area.

Morton Resigns As Police Chief

Cabazon Police Chief Robert Morton, recent target for heavy criticism by the Cabazon Improvement Association, has submitted his resignation to the City Council.

Morton, Cabazon chief for three years, asked that his resignation take effect with employment of "a suitable replacement."

His letter of resignation, accepted by Mayor and Police Commissioner L. De Tallent, cited the growth of the community and the business of the police department and conveyed Morton's desire to "remain in the police department at the option of the new chief."

The chief, long a controversial figure, was the target of an improvement association petition aimed at removing Morton from office on charges of incompetence.

City Councilmen, who handed Morton a vote of confidence following his resignation, defeated the petition by a three-to-two vote.

The blood which saved the life of Mrs. Hazel Slater, 53, Capistrano Beach, was obtained at Veterans Administration hospital in Long Beach. It was requested at 7:55 p.m. and arrived at Newport Beach at 8:14 p.m. while Mrs. Slater still was in surgery.

Senegalese Mob Defies de Gaulle Peace Proposals

DAKAR, French West Africa (UP) — French Premier Charles de Gaulle left it up to defiant Senegalese today to choose between independence and French economic aid.

Thousands of Senegalese roared "De Gaulle, go home" and "we want independence" when the premier arrived here Tuesday on his African tour to marshal support for his new constitution. It was the roughest reception experienced so far by De Gaulle on his current tour.

Tuesday night a crowd roared defiance at De Gaulle when he proposed that Senegal join a "community" with France under the proposed constitution. De

UN Secretary in Jordan to Start Peace Mission

AMMAN, Jordan — (UP) — U.N. Secretary-general Dag Hammarskjöld flew here today from Lebanon for talks with Jordanian leaders which mark the formal beginning of his peace mission to the Middle East.

The U.N. official's blue-and-white DCs landed here. He was welcomed at the airport with traditional ceremony by Premier Samir Rifai and other Jordanian officials.

Hammarskjöld and members of his party checked in at a local hotel after paying a ceremonial visit to the Royal Palace. He will meet Rifai and King Hussein later today for the talks.

The conferees will seek some means of carrying out the Arab plan adopted unanimously by the General Assembly, which calls for some form of international replacement for U.S. and British troops in the Middle East.

The U. N. leader traveled in an atmosphere of tense security precautions. In Beirut, Lebanese soldiers armed with tommyguns—acting in some cases on U. N. orders—drove news photographers away from the U. N. party.

TU Organizer Stricken at Racket Quiz

Baker Reported to Have Suffered Heart Attack

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Barney Baker, 234 - pound Teamsters Union organizer, was reported to have suffered a heart attack this morning just before being recalled as a witness by the Senate Rackets Committee.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy made the announcement of Baker's illness after a 10-minute delay in the start of today's hearings. Kennedy said Baker was taken to a hospital and placed on the critical list.

There was no immediate word on Baker from the hospital where the unionist was said to have been taken.

BAKER WAS TO HAVE been questioned on a mysterious money deal involving the transmission of $1,000 from a Pennsylvania trucking firm to an Iowa motel last summer.

Baker spent two hectic days on the witness stand last week during which he was questioned about everything from the Greenleaf kidnapping ransom to his self-proclaimed political association with New York Gov. Averell Harriman.

AT THE TIME, the committee touched only lightly on evidence about Baker's intervention to help settle a strike at the Esco Company of McKees Rocks, Pa., and the subsequent dispatch of $1,000 in cash to Edward Weinheimer, a company agent, at the Rambler Motel outside Des Moines. Both Baker and Weinheimer had rooms at the motel.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith, the motel operators, said Weinheimer got three bulky envelopes by express one morning and Baker came in later in the day to pay his bill with a $100 bill he extracted from an envelope that looked like the ones Weinheimer received earlier.

Chinese Reds Converging On Formosa

Landing Craft in Strait Area is Nationalist Report

TAIPEI, Formosa — (UP) — Defense Ministry spokesman Adm. Liu Hsiang-tu said today Communist naval forces were "converging" on the Formosa Strait area where heavy Red guns bombarded the Quemoy Islands with nearly 9,000 shells by mid-afternoon.

Liu said the Communists had 4,000 to 5,000 landing craft in the area following their recent buildup for possible amphibious landings.

The Communists concentrated their shelling today on the sister islands of Tatan and Erhlan located in the mouth of Amoy Harbor but Liu warned the concentrated shelling of the two islands may be a screen for landings elsewhere.

THE COMMUNISTS ALSO poured thousands of rounds of artillery on Quemoy in an apparent all-out effort to neutralize the airfield there.

It was the fifth straight day murderous bombardment with the Communists shelling for an hour or two, stopping and then resuming the bombardment with greater intensity. In a three-hour morning bombardment they hit Quemoy with more than 2,000 shells.

Liu Hsiang-tu said the dirt airstrip on Quemoy was still usable despite the bombardment. He denied as "greatly exaggerated" one report the strip had been hit with 1,600 shells.

HOWEVER, an American military source said, "I do not think any more planes will be flying to Quemoy from today." Liu said several planes landed at Quemoy Tuesday night and at dawn. The strip is used by cargo and military passenger planes; jets are based on Formosa.

The Communists interrupted their bombardment of Quemoy at one point today to lay down a 4,000-round barrage on Tatan and Erhlan islands. All the islands in the Quemoy group are about 10 miles from the Communist-held mainland.

Yucca Valley House to Be Built in Day

YUCCA VALLEY — Starting with a bare "golden spike," area construction men will build a complete, $25,000 home in 24 hours here Saturday to launch a week end fund drive program for a new high desert hospital.

First nail will be struck in this all-electric "Medallion Home" at noon by Jack McElroy, NBC television personality, who will be assisted by other celebrities.

HAMMERING OF the golden nail signals the highpoint of a week end program that opens with a grubsteak breakfast Saturday morning.

Object of the program is to raise funds for the construction of a hospital designed to serve the entire high desert area. Goal for the hospital drive, expected to cover at least four months, is $100,000.

Toothaches Cost More in New York

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Census Bureau reports it costs more to have a tooth filled in San Francisco than in New York.

The bureau said the cost per filling in New York was $5.17 compared with the nationwide high of $7.14 in San Francisco.

HOOVER TO GIVE PENSION, AFTER TAX, TO CHARITY

NEW YORK (UP) — Former President Herbert Hoover said today he will give to public service or charity what the tax collector doesn't take of his new $25,000 a year presidential pension. But he said his action should not set a precedent for other public officials.

U.S. to Stand By Obligation To Nationalist

WASHINGTON — (UP) — President Eisenhower declined today to say whether the United States would fight to save Nationalist-held islands off the coast of Red China.

But the President asserted that the U.S. will not desert its obligations and responsibilities to defend the Nationalist Chinese bastion of Formosa and the Pescadores Islands near Formosa.

He also took the occasion of his weekly news conference to warn that any nation which started an all-out nuclear war would be destroyed by American retaliatory power. He added that it would be silly to say the U.S. could be defeated in such a war.

THE PRESIDENT was questioned about the stepped up artillery attacks which the Chinese Communists have been making on the Quemoy and other offshore islands garrisoned by Chinese Nationalist troops.

He said some of the islands now have an increased importance over what they had several years ago because the Chinese now have stationed one third of their forces on islands west of the Pescadores. He said that makes a closer interlocking of those islands with the defense of Formosa.

Asked whether this increased importance would affect his judgment on U.S. action to defend Formosa, the President said such military decisions simply could not be made until after the event.

He went on to say, however, that the increased importance of these islands near the coast might be a consideration under circumstances which he did not define. But the President made it clear that whatever the decision is about Quemoy, this country will defend Formosa and the Pescadores.

Check Suspect to Face Court at Indio Next Week

Charged with passing more than $200 worth of bogus checks in Palm Springs, Ruth Marie Taylor, 30, faces Superior Court arraignment at Indio Sept. 4.

She was ordered bound over to Superior Court following hearing before Judge Eugene Theriault yesterday.

The Palm Springs woman said she cashed the checks on the strength of her husband's word that they had a valid account in a local bank.

Mrs. Taylor, whose husband, Arthur Lee Taylor, is currently serving a jail term in Riverside, was taken off a Blythe - bound bus at Indio last week and returned here for prosecution, police said.

Stands Firm on Policies

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP) — The Arkansas House of Representatives passed 94-1 today a bill empowering Gov. Orval Faubus to close any school facing forcible integration of Negro children.

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower said today it would be terrible if states closed public schools to prevent integration. Arkansas and Virginia are determined to close next month schools to which federal courts finally order admission of Negroes.

The President also told reporters at his news conference that he may have remarked to friends that mixture of the races in the schools should proceed at a slower pace. He remained determined, however, to enforce any federal court orders that insist on integration now.

THE SUPREME COURT will hold an extraordinary hearing Thursday on whether integration should proceed without delay at Little Rock's Central High School again this year. The Justice Department will give its view in a brief to be filed with the court in the morning and in oral arguments when the hearing starts at noon.

The President said he had not instructed the department either to agree or disagree with a federal district judge's order to delay integration at Central High until 1961. But he emphasized that he would expect the department's brief to reflect his own views.

THE PRESIDENT again refused, as he has, at other news conferences, to give his personal views as to whether the Supreme Court was right or wrong when it decreed that white and Negro children should be educated in the same public schools.

But he conceded he may have said integration should be slower.

Arkansas Rushes Faubus Program

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP) — The Arkansas Legislature was rushing into law today a program that will permit Gov. Orval E. Faubus to close a school threatened with forcible integration and reopen it to the next morning as a private, segregated institution.

The key to his whole program, United Press International learned, is already on the state's lawbooks and has been since the days of reconstruction. It allows an unused public school to be used as a private school.

A bill permitting Faubus to close an integration-threatened school, and accompanying legislation is expected to be law by Thursday when the U. S. Supreme Court meets in extraordinary session to consider the new Little Rock crisis.

County Tax Rate Unchanged as Board Cuts Budget $828,504

All Costs Held to Minimum

With a cut of $828,504 from the 1958-59 preliminary budget, the Board of Supervisors ended up Monday with a final budget of $29,856,815.29 and retention of the present $1.64 tax rate. Based on the preliminary budget total the tax rate would have been upped to $1.76 per $100 valuation.

The twelve-cent tax reduction was effected in part through suggestions made by Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen, resulting from a proposal made last week by Supervisor George Berkey that maintenance and operation and equipment purchases be cut and operation costs of departments be held to a minimum.

THE $828,504 CUT actually reduced the tax rate 17 cents, but five cents was deducted as a sales tax reserve because of the threatened elimination of the county sales tax which might come as a result of withdrawal of Corona from the cities-county sales tax agreement. The five-cent reduction would cover the three months period during which no tax would be collected.

Included in the $828,504, is a $487,323 withdrawal from the accumulative capital outlay fund suggested last week by Supervisor William Jones. Should the sales tax elimination fail to materialize it is presumed that sales tax income would replace the accumulative capital outlay fund cut.

IN SPITE OF the large slash in the preliminary budget, the administrative officer managed to include in the final budget an additional $66,000 to cover nine months (October 1 through June) of the annual salary increases recommended last week by Personnel Director Donald Spencer.

Andersen said that only positions most out of line and difficult of recruitment were allotted salary increases. He said the raises will bring most of the positions allowed increases up to approximately six per cent below Orange and San Bernardino counties, though some will still be ten per cent lower than salaries in like positions in the neighboring counties. He recommended that the personnel officer and employees association's salary committee make a new salary survey and new adjustment recommendations between now and January of 1959.

THE EMPLOYEES association had asked for an annual increase of $600,000 in salaries based on an across the board increase of seven and one-half per cent, later reducing the amount to $394,810.

The $487,323 withdrawal from the accumulative capital outlay fund eliminates branch civic centers planned for Hemet, Corona, Elsinore, and Banning, amounting to $110,000, a communications building to serve the Hemet-Perris area, $5000, and $372,323 of the $664,800 earmarked for county buildings in Riverside.

There are about 277,658 persons gainfully employed in the Columbus, Ohio, area.

NEW PAVEMENT for Desert Air Hotel's sprawling parking area is surveyed by hotel manager John F. Noyes following completion of this latest phase of the famed resort's current expansion program. Measuring 80,000 square feet, the parking lot now forms a huge, paved entrance to the "fly-in, drive-in" resort hotel. Extensive landscaping and opening of 22 new units are also new features that will be viewed by the public when the hotel begins its 12th season Friday night. Noyes said that work will start later this year on a glass enclosed garden, located to the south of the main building. The plastic topped garden will house some 700 luau patrons and feature a dance floor and raised bandstand and a background water "fall." (Desert Sun Photo)

Recreation Area For Santa Rosas Studied by Board

Consideration of an offer to sell the county some 800 acres of forest area on Santa Rosa Mountain as a recreation area, provided that the Board of Supervisors desires to increase the county's recreational facilities for camping and trailer use, was recommended Monday by Road Commissioner A. C. Keith.

Owner of the property is Mrs. M. H. Lewis. The property was offered by Ralph Young of Palm Springs Ranch Construction Company at a price of $38,500.

"The area is undoubtedly one of the few mountain areas available in Riverside County that could be developed now or in the future as a recreation site," said Keith, "and it is particularly well located for residents of the desert area."

The acreage includes 640 acres, Section 25 in Township 7 South, Range 5 East, 80 acres in Section 27, and 80 acres in Section 35 on the west side of Toro Peak. It is located at an altitude of 5,500 feet with many large pines, 17 springs, a cabin, and numerous camp sites.

The recommendation was put on the "board table" for study by the supervisors.

U. S. DEFENSES AGAINST RUSS SUB THREAT WOEFULLY INADEQUATE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russian submarines will be able to strike devastating nuclear missile blows against the United States in the early 1960s, a congressional advisory panel said today.

Existing defenses could not stop such an attack, the panel's report said, and it is "very doubtful" whether the present level of research and development will provide a defense in time.

The warning came from a six-man advisory panel to the Weapons Subcommittee of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee. The panel's report, screened for security, was made public by subcommittee chairman Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.).

The report also warned that Russia, possessor of the greatest force of conventional submarines, could equal and surpass the United States in nuclear-powered submarines by the mid-1960s.

It said research and development expenditures for anti-submarine warfare have been "grossly inadequate" compared with the money spent on missiles and air defense. The Navy's budget for undersea warfare research should be "at least doubles" next year and substantially increased thereafter, the panel said.

"The time is rapidly nearing when the Soviet Union can possess, first a few, and then a large fleet of intermediate range ballistic missile-launching nuclear propelled submarines," the report said. It added that:

"The Soviets could mount a devastating nuclear warhead attack from the sea against the United States early in the 1960s."

"Our existing and presently planned defensive system could not stop such a missile attack. Therein lies the peril," the report said.

It noted, however, that submarines of the Polaris missile launching type now being developed in the United States, have "unique advantages as a deterrent force." It recommended that Polaris subs, nine of which have now been financed, be freed from the Navy's regular personnel ceiling.

Th panel said it is a "matter of national importance that a force of Polaris submarines be brought into being at the earliest possible date." The Polaris is an intermediate range ballistic missile capable of being launched from submarines.

Alaska Votes 7-1 in Favor Of Statehood

Democrats Lead Republicans 4-1 For New Offices

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — (UPI) — Alaska said today it was more than willing to become the 49th state of the union.

As more votes of Tuesday's election were counted, it became obvious Alaskans favor statehood by a landslide margin of 7 to 1.

Tabulations of about two-thirds of a record-breaking vote, estimated to total 40,000, showed 22,214 for statehood and only 4,291 opposed.

The anti-statehood vote expected from Southeastern Alaska failed to show. Instead, the major southeastern communities of Ketchikan and Juneau, the territorial capital, joined the rest of the vast northern region in voting overwhelmingly to join the union.

The nonpartisan issue of statehood, supported by every candidate in the election, gave both Democrats and Republicans something to cheer about. But the first counting of votes for political candidates, slower to come through because of the priority given the statehood measures, gave Republicans something to worry about.

In most instances, the total Democratic vote for the major congressional and state offices was more than four times the Republican vote. The exception to the pattern was Republican Mike Stepovich, former governor running unopposed for one of the U. S. Senate terms.

Passengers Turn to Prayer To Avoid Panic on Airliner

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Passengers on a polar flight from London to Los Angeles turned to prayer to avoid panic Tuesday when their crippled airliner hunted for a landing field near the U.S.-Canadian border.

The Trans World Airline made a flaming, emergency landing at a World War II landing strip near Cut Bank, Mont.

The 61 passengers and crew of 10 were brought on to Los Angeles by another four engine Constellation after a 12-hour stay in Cut Bank.

"THE PRAYER was the most noticeable thing," said Floyd Allen, 46, a missionary from French Camaroun, Africa. "Everyone tried to keep quiet and natural and calm. Everyone was quite courageous, I thought."

"People talked quietly to each other" said Thomas Pomposo, 28, Pittsburgh, Calif. "The stewardess kept coming back and forth, first instructing us to put on our life jackets when we thought we would land over water, then letting us know we were over Montana."

"A lot of people prayed—mostly older persons and children."

THE AIRLINER, piloted by Capt. Earl Fleet, was directed to the remote airfield by radar units at Cut Bank, Havre, and Malmstrom, Montana.

"If it hadn't been for the radar units, I would have been forced to make a crash landing," Fleet said.

"Our No. 3 propeller fell off. Then the No. 3 engine caught fire. If we hadn't landed, we might have gone in two or three minutes."

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Olds have entertained Mr. Old's brother, Mr. Horace B. Olds, and his daughter Mary Ellen for the past month. They have returned home, which is Charles City, Iowa. The Russell Olds spend their winters in the Sun Lodge Colony.

Mrs. Jeannette Winegarden, who presides at the postoffice will spend the month of September in Texas, where she and her husband will visit their son. She expects to leave in a few days. We will all miss her, but hope she has a fine vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Constantino are planning to leave around September 1st for a two week vacation. They have been going up to their cabin in Fern Valley every week end. Jeannette will be missed by all who depend on her for secretarial service, especially the Chamber of Commerce.

The Earl Oberns have been motoring through Canada, all this month and their itinerary sounds like an Indian Travel tour, Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, Calgary, Regina, have been looked into by the Oberns. They hope to stop in the historic Fort Williams on Lake Superior, then back into Canada before coming back into the state of Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hudson have just returned to the Palm Desert Lodge after several weeks in northern California, Washington, Oregon and Canada.

U.C. Prexy to be Inaugurated Next Month

President Clark Kerr of the statewide University of California will be inaugurated next month with ceremonies on seven of the university's eight campuses.

Formal convocation will be held September 26 at Los Angeles and September 29 at Berkeley. Official delegates from universities and learned societies throughout the world will participate in these traditional ceremonies.

Thursday at 66-311 West 1st St., Desert Hot Springs. Mass is 9 a.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth's Church in Desert Hot Springs. Burial will follow in Desert Memorial Park.

The twelfth president of the statewide university will then visit the other campuses for special meetings and related events marking his inauguration, according to an announcement by Donald H. McLaughlin, chairman of the regents of the University.

He will visit Riverside October 1; Santa Barbara, October 3; La Jolla, October 6; Davis, October 8; and San Francisco, October 10. The faculty and graduate student body at Mt. Hamilton will be invited to participate in the Berkeley convocation.

Faculty from the other northern campuses also have been invited to take part in the Berkeley convocation. Those in the south will be invited to participate at Los Angeles.

Chancellor of the Berkeley campus since 1952, Dr. Kerr succeeded President Robert Gordon Sproul July 1. He was director of the University's Institute of Industrial Relations from 1945-52, and continues to hold an academic appointment as professor of industrial relations. His services as labor mediator have gained national recognition.

He holds degrees from Swarthmore college, Stanford university and the University of California, and formerly taught at Stanford and the University of Washington.

Rancho Mirage

By JEAN PATANE

Dr. and Mrs. George Gordon, Rancho Mirage winter residents, who are currently touring Europe were in Haifa and Jerusalem, Israel the early part of August and were impressed with the beauty of the country and the ultra modern architecture. They later visited Rome and toured the city with a friend who is at the head of United Artists Rome Studio. After visiting Florence and Venice they will see Paris before returning to the States about the middle of September.

A few weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. John Batcho of Westwood purchased one of the large residential lots on Rancho Road where they plan on building a home and pool in the near future. The sale was negotiated by Jean Kermott of the Cameron Realty Office.

Mrs. Tom Anderson (Hoams Built Pools) and young son Deane are visiting this week in Palos Verdes and Los Angeles. The Andersons son Jay is expected back Thursday from a pack trip into the High Sierras with members of the Riverside Council Boy Scouts.

Mr. and Mrs. John Vale spent the past few weeks visiting in Berkeley at the home of their daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newel and their young son Bradley. Mr. Vale enjoyed some successful salmon fishing in Golden Gate Bay. They stopped in Novato to see their friends George and Beth Spaine, and visited the beautiful new Marin Golf and Country Club scheduled to open officially in November and where George Spaine is the teaching golf pro.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Greene, owners of Greene's Desert Lodge returned Saturday from a week in Los Angeles visiting their many friends. The Greens made their home in Los Angeles before moving to the desert a few years ago.

Well known desert residents Mr. and Mrs. Owen (Marion) Collins were at their Tangier Road home Monday. They have been spending the summer at Long Beach and Mrs. Collins has almost completely recovered from her attack of polio.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McQuown were their son Paul and his friend Joe Waldrop of Granada Hills and Joe's cousin Helen McGregor who is visiting on the coast from her home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hurley who recently sold the Montezuma Apartments, which they owned and operated for the past two years, are now making their home in the Tamarisk area of Cathedral City.

Following the days in the cool clime of Idyllwild, Mrs. Phil Franklin, son Mike and baby daughter Kathy returned to their home Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McQuown drove into Los Angeles over the weekend to see the Dodgers.

play at the Coliseum and visit with their son Paul at his home in Granada Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton C. Singer returned Sunday from a three week motor trip across country. They drove to Eldorado Springs, Missouri where they enjoyed a reunion with forty-three members of his family. Mrs. Singer went to St. Petersburg, Florida where she spent five days reminiscing with her 83-year-old aunt, Miss Louise Sanger, whom she hadn't seen since 1929. They enjoyed their trip but were happy to get home to the comparatively cool desert.

Last week Mrs. Bob Pitchford and their young son Robby were at the summer home of Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Pitchford at Lake Arrowhead. Bob, well known industrial designer, returned to the desert between weekends.

YUCCA VALLEY

AMONG CELEBRITIES expected to be on hand at the golden spike ceremony are Jack Dempsey and Christine Callas, singing protegee of Liberace currently appearing at a Beverly Hills night club.

Darlene Day, "Miss Palm Springs," is also scheduled to appear.

Saturday's program calls for construction of the house, by men who are donating their time and materials, in a single 24-hour period. The home will later be awarded to a hospital fund contributor who will be named in a drawing Dec. 20.

ART MILLER, developer of Western Hills Estates here, donated the lot upon which the new home will be built. Plans and much of the construction material were donated by the Masonite Corporation of America.

The project is a cooperative venture, sponsored by chamber of commerce, business men and service clubs in Yucca Valley, Twentynine Palms, Morongo Valley and Pioneer Town.

DRIVE OFFICIALS said the project was started because of the total lack of hospital facilities in the rapidly growing high desert area. Nearest available hospital facilities are 40 miles away it was noted.

Getting the week end festivities under way, Pioneer Town's colorful "first citizen," Buck Brown, will serve a free grubsteak breakfast at the homesite Saturday morning.

A WESTERN BARBECUE will be served later at the Burnt Mountain Dide Ranch, which is also opening its facilities to the public for such recreational features as swimming, roller skating, tennis, shuffleboard, horseshoe tossing and horseback riding.

On the grounds of the High Desert Airport, the Copper Room is making its facilities available for a western steak fry and dance Saturday night, and the High Desert Golf Course will welcome all visiting golfers during the week end.

An oldtime western tour of Pioneer Town is also scheduled for high desert week end visitors.

N. Palm Springs Study Requested

A letter from J. D. Dever, Palm Springs realtor, who described himself as "one of a group strongly opposing the incorporation of North Palm Springs," was referred Monday to county counsel for a reply.

Dever expressed the hope that a population survey of the area proposed for incorporation can be made by the county. County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., has already said the board of supervisors lacks jurisdiction to make such a survey.

Iowa was named after a Sioux tribe whose name meant "one who puts to sleep."

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes wrong.

Greatest Building Year In History Under Way

Sure sign that Rancho Mirage will join the growing list of full-fledged outlying communities in the Palm Springs suburban area is the announcement that construction will start in a few weeks on a $3,000,000 commercial and residential project with a large new Safeway store as the central feature.

The fact that Safeway has decided to establish a $1,000,000 branch in the heart of the Country Club area at the midway point between Palm Springs and Indio is in itself ample evidence of the large population gain of that sector in the past several years as well as indicative of the even greater growth forecast for the near future.

With approximately $12,000,000 in new construction scheduled for the year in the region from Cathedral City to Palm Desert and Indian Wells, it is evident that Highway 111 will be filled in almost completely with enterprises of various kinds within a comparatively short space of time.

All of this is in addition to the greatest building year on record in the City of Palm Springs.

Ground is to be broken soon for Saks store and a commercial center, Mayfair is building a second Palm Springs store at Cameron Center, a new $3,000,000 shopping center has been announced for the area east of Sunrise Way, and $2,000,000 health center development surrounding the Agua Caliente Springs, 40 new deluxe units on Palm Canyon Drive near the Racquet Club valued at $1,600,000, a $2,000,000 18 hole golf club project, additional hundreds of new residences and scores of smaller commercial building.

Almost every week brings announcement of one or more new business additions and major investments in Palm Springs and the surrounding area.

The earliest prediction that close to $30,000,000 would be expended this year in new construction in greater Palm Springs is being fulfilled most gratifyingly.

There is no question that by far the greatest year in our history is now getting under way.

Outward Bound

WASHINGTON, D. C. — My tears will not flow very rampant for the demise of the 85th Congress, which was so feeble that it failed to pass a Labor reform bill and so crass that it offered bribes to mere high school students.

But some of the individual members won't be back and will be mourned. It often seems that death and elections and the passage of time remove the best persons and leave the next-best behind. The incoming Senate will be the poorer for the lack of:

Edward Martin of Pennsylvania who has been a soldier-statesman in the best use of that ill-used term. Martin served in all grades of the military establishment, from private to major general before becoming Governor and Senator of his State. Mr. Martin tells me he will spend the rest of his life as a private citizen trying by speeches and writing to make Americans understand what a great heritage of freedom and opportunity is theirs.

I did not know till I went to tell Mr. Martin goodbye that he is a major collector of Americana. He has signed letters of all Presidents, Vice Presidents and Chief Justices. He has signatures of 125 leaders in the War between the States, of 48 of the 55 Declaration of Independence signers, of 40 of 34 Constitution signers, and he has Currier and Ives prints of 16 American Presidents. Here's a man who knows and loves America—and he won't be back next year.

William Jenner of Indiana who has been one of Communism's earliest and most savage foes. He didn't know it until now, but I paid Mr. Jenner a tribute from a place that counts—my pocket-book. A few weeks ago there was a Jenner Testimonial Dinner, the sort of event at which a newspaper man is usually welcome to free-load. But I felt the crowd might be embarrassing small and I wanted to swell it. So I paid my own way in, and was astonished to find 1200 persons on hand.

Jenner's farewell speech is a better epitaph than I can write. He said of his retirement from Congress: "If I've been wrong, no harm is done—there have been so few of me. If I've been right, there will be others to fill my place." The U. S. Senator who can say in word and deed that he is not indispensable will get my hurrah. Here's a hard fighter for his firm beliefs—and he won't be back.

William F. Knowland of California, who is going home to run for Governor. For some years Mr. Knowland has had me as a solitary guest to breakfast with him, and there he talked off-record without any—well, hardly any—of the formality and stiffness which marks him in public appearances. I recall that we discussed the political developments in California before he had announced his candidacy and before the Democratic candidate had announced his. Without use of quotation marks and with no personalities involved, I think I know why Knowland feels it important to win in November. He feels, I think, that with the Laborite influence growing very fast, California is in danger of becoming "another" Michigan where there is a Laborite Governor who like Laborite bosses, could hold office like a king for life. Here in Knowland is a big, clean, stubborn idealist and it's a pity he won't be back.

Irving L. Ives of New York and Ralph Flanders of Vermont who are leaving voluntarily for different reasons. Mr. Ives after 28 years in legislative posts says: "I'm fed up with politics." Flanders, a retired industrialist with an autumnal career in politics, thanks his constituents for "the greatest gift in your power to give" and goes off to enjoy New England sighs and sound. It is good to see politicians to whom political life is not all. The robust disgust of Mr. Ives for politics, and the courtly gratitude of Mr. Flanders are qualities which will be missed when their seats are filled by other men.

H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, who has an academic background and whose leaving-taking has a philosophical note. Mr. Smith wrote a letter to his fellow Senators, dated Aug. 15, in which he spoke these wise words: "I believe that our lives move in cycles, and that new chapters occur as we mature and develop new capabilities to do those things which our age and experience may call upon us to do."

So much for the departures. Senator Martin said something very cogent about incoming Senators.

"Over here," he said contrast the House of Representatives to the Senate, "there is a great opportunity to think. When certain Senators get up to speak, you know it's going to take two hours and that you can't go home. But what an opportunity just to sit there—and think!"

—Holmes Alexander

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: I have a five-year-old son who keeps falling out of bed. He slept in a crib up until now and he can't get used to sleeping in a bed, so he falls out of bed and lands on his head. My husband says to put him back in his crib. My mother says to tie him down, but I am afraid he will strangle on the cord because he moves around a lot when he sleeps. My neighbor says a sleeping child will never hurt himself if he falls out of bed, even if he lands on his head, and he will learn fast from his own bumps and bruises. I'm all confused. Please tell me what to do.

ALL CONFUSED

DEAR ALL: Don't put a five-year-old back in his crib and don't, for goodness sake, tie him down. Put chairs around the open sides of this bed and pad the floor. He CAN hurt himself (and seriously) if he falls out of bed and lands on his head.

DEAR ABBY: I am the second wife, having married a man whose first wife divorced him because she wanted no other man. We are on good terms and his first wife and her husband live upstairs from us. When my husband brings me flowers or a plant or any kind of a gift, he brings her one just like it. I like the woman, but I get hurt when he does this. Even she told him it wasn't right but he does it anyway. We run into each other carrying the same purses and when it rains we are both in the same raincoats and the whole thing is getting on my nerves and I can't take any more. Have you any suggestions?

HURT

DEAR HURT: If your husband brings you a gift and she has one just like it for Wife Number One, refuse to accept it. Then, he will know you mean business.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I don't know how to handle. Our 18-year-old daughter fell in love with a 19-year-old boy. He is a perfect gentleman and goes to church with us and he is so respectful and hard working and clean that we love this boy. He came to us and told us he is an illegitimate child and he has no idea who his mother or father are. He said he was born in the Booth Memorial Hospital and was later put into an orphan's home. How can we find out more about this young man or don't you think it makes any difference? JUST A MOTHER

DEAR JUST: There must be a record of his birth (at Booth Memorial), but if I were you I would judge the young man on what he has said of himself. If he is clean, hard-working, church-going, respectful and loves your daughter, he qualifies as a first-class son-in-law. Goodluck.

DEAR ABBY: I had a date for a barn dance one night in a small town near here. On the way back I ran out of gas. We found ourselves (my girl and I) in the middle of nowhere. My date said she would wait in the car for me while I hitch-hiked to the nearest service station. I disagreed and made her hitch-hike with me. What is the correct thing for a fellow to do in a case like this?

OUT OF GAS

DEAR OUT: You use excellent judgment. The walk couldn't hurt her, but the date of a girl sitting alone in a deserted automobile "in the middle of nowhere" are too terrible to contemplate. Good luck to you!

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

HIGHWAY 111 could be widened to a dual purpose road. Wide enough to accommodate the people who have to go places and also the people who come here for recreation and rest.

It is a scenic highway and should be kept that way. And the improvement should come soon.

We're growing too fast to stand much further delay.

THERE HAS BEEN much talk lately about "hidden commercials" on TV.

You know, the subtle kind that gives you the urge without blasting your eyes and ears with pictures and nerve-wracking jingles.

Well, I guess I experienced one the other night.

WAS WATCHING the fights when I was seized by an uncontrollable yen for corned beef on rye with hot mustard. I know it must have been a commercial because I insisted on a certain brand of mustard. Missed the knockout, too, because I walked to the corner to get that mustard.

This Side of The Sun By Phat

Things on the desert
Are never done small,
It's either in millions
Or nothing at all.

Projects are planned in a big way in the Palm Springs area. Just three items alone in the past few days — two new developments and the sale of a big hotel — involve $1 million dollars.

THE WAY THINGS are progressing here it won't be long before the desert from Palm Springs to beyond Palm Desert will be just one big community, solidly built.

It will be the richest and probably the largest in Riverside County but still ruled from a spot 50 miles away, across the mountains where a portion, at least, of the governing body is not in sympathy with the desert and its activities.

LAST SPRING, in reviewing the growth of Palm Springs and surrounding area in the period since V-J Day and the end of World War II, The Desert Sun said:

"You ain't seen the half of it yet."

The truth of that statement is being borne out every day in statistics and announcements of all sorts.

SO IT IS FOR SURE that this area will continue to be the fastest-growing in Southern California which, in itself, is setting a dizzy pace in the nation.

And from Desert Hot Springs to La Quinta it will be built up solidly, beautiful homes, lush golf clubs, commodious shopping centers, everything anyone could want.

BUT I WONDER how long this rapidly-expanding area which is filling up so swiftly, is going to be served by one rather winding highway, two lanes in most places?

Highway 111 should be widened to keep up with the pace set by the desert area.

It should be widened but not converted into an express speedway which would split the communities.

There has been much talk lately about "hidden commercials" on TV.

You know, the subtle kind that gives you the urge without blasting your eyes and ears with pictures and nerve-wracking jingles.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

Praise be, I have the eyes of an eagle. But the movies nowadays are fuzzier than they used to be. Have you noticed that?

So off to the eye doctor the other day.

"Read the top line," he said briskly.

"E," I said promptly. "The top line is always 'E'. After that it is a good deal of double-talk. I would not waste my time reading it. Where is the chart by the way?"

"Oh, pardon me," said the eye doctor. He flipped a switch. "I forgot to turn it on."

WELL, IT IS NOT the glass part that counts these eye-catching days. It is the frames. My frames are a natty gray. They are called "His Royal Nibs."

"We also have these," said the frame man pulling out a set of solid tortoise shell. "We call these library glasses."

"Why do you call them that?" The frame man looked a little worried. "That is what it says on the inside of the rim."

I settled for the "His Royal Nibs." I should wear library glasses—people would think I spent my time in libraries. No steady job.

My glasses go with anything. That is what the man said. They go with blue or brown. Once I knew a man who had one brown eye and one blue eye. These glasses would have been excellent for him.

NO SOONER HAD I purchased these glasses than people began telling me I SHOULD have bought Globemasters. Have you ever noticed that?

"I think you should have bought Globemasters," said the lady.

Turned out this lady is vice president of the Harlequin Corporation. This corporation makes upwired glasses.

"I thought only ladies wore such glasses," I said gloomily. "Ladies and people who think they are airplanes."

"They are more becoming for those in advanced years said the vice president lady. "Men's faces sag, too, you know."

She said the upswept look counteracted the sagging look. A sort of optical illusion, you might say.

I DID NOT wear glasses until I had a good deal of mileage on me. But I recall the boys who did wear them.

We chased them home from school hollering: "Four-eyes, four-eyes, run for your life. Here comes skinny with the butcher knife!"

It is a penitentiary offense to hit a boy with glasses. This is school day lore and we believed it intensely.

We could not hit the boys with glasses. But we gave them a good scare. Most of them were teachers' pets. And I could have licked them easy. I was surely sorry they wore glasses because a lot of other boys would lick me.

Those boys did not wear glasses.

IT WOULD be a great mistake for anybody to clobber me when I am wearing "His Royal Nibs."

It is not only a penitentiary offense. I would clout them with the nearest chair. These are expensive glasses. And if anybody breaks them, it is going to be me.

They are excellent glasses. Going well with blue eyes or brown eyes.

Not with black eyes. I can see like an eagle with them. Sweep up the frames a little and I would even LOOK like an eagle.

LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R.—Adlai Stevenson, discussing the United States presidency with a group of Russians:

"The United States is a very democratic country and anybody can be a candidate. This is a danger to which every American is exposed from babyhood. One cannot be too careful."

NEW YORK—Jerry Lee Lewis like. Max, unperturbed, asked the 14-year-old bride Myra is absolutely, positively and unqualifiedly expecting a baby around Year's. Jerry Lee has just signed for two Hollywood movies, one titled "Beat Generation," and is earning about $10,000-a-week doing personal appearances.

Elsa Maxwell will be back on the Jack Paar TV show no matter what you may have heard. Jack assured NBC he can handle Elsa and NBC said, "Anything you want—it's your show."

Joseph Cotten yakked it up, but there was gloom backstage at "Who Was That Lady?" — for the Peter Lind Hayes-Mary Healy show hung up an Aug. 30 closing notice . . . Jackie Gleason, now down to 220, tells friends that if he can slice off 50 pounds more he gets $1,000,000 tax free from Slenderella in a weight-reducing promotion gimmick. Cheering him on to get it is lovely Honey Merrill . . . The San Francisco contact lensers say the girl they'd like most to keep in contact with is Wilson Girl nominee Laura Manson, dancer at Goman's Gay 90s there.

Japanese Find a Way to Beat Heat Without Coolers

By RONALD P. KRIS
United Press International

TOKYO (UPI) The Japanese are fighting summer's heat with the next best thing to air conditioning psychology.

In terms that the average, sweating man will understand, they are trying to think themselves cool.

This is no simple feat, and the Japanese have spent centuries perfecting an elaborate set of gimmicks to help their mental air-conditioning systems to function smoothly.

One is the wind-bell, a simple, charming device that captures the faintest breath of a breeze and magnifies it into a tinkling little sound. Almost every home and office has one.

MOST GARDENS are equipped with water spouts that release a tiny trickle of water. The constant "drip, drip" sound was used quite effectively by medieval torturers to drive their captives mad, but if you're in the right frame of mind, the dripping noise actually helps you to think cool.

In the doorways of many department stores and large shops, the Japanese set a large chunk of ice atop a stand. The ice often is sculptured in the shape of animals and surrounded by cool-looking sprigs of leaves.

THE THEATERS do their part too. At Tokyo's Kokusai Theater the "Atomic Girls" billed as the hottest things in town when the weather is cooler cavort amidst waterfalls, gushing streams, ponds and occasional thundershowers.

The traditional Japanese Kabuki Theater also offers summer plots with plenty of water but the Kabuki has something even better to chill the audience ghost plays.

Nearly every summer program includes the "Yotsuya Kaidan," a spine-tingling drama written during the 18th century.

The beautiful heroine, in ghostly succession is poisoned, finds that her hair is falling out and her face growing disfigured, as a result, stabs herself and watches helplessly, in her last moment, as a giant rat chews her newly-born baby to death.

THAT'S NOT THE END of the horror, either. She becomes a ghost and, after learning her husband has poisoned her and killed her father, she kills him until he dies in a final, agony-drenched scene.

The Japanese also have a few other techniques for beating the heat. On the theory that if you smack yourself over the head with a hammer your headache won't

CARY GRANT and Ingrid Bergman star in the Warner Bros. release, "Indiscreet," the story of a romance between a rich American diplomat and a famous European actress. The lavish Technicolor film, produced and directed by Stanley Donen is the appropriate season opener for the Plaza Theatre, starting Thursday and showing through Monday, Labor Day.

Burglars Really Lifted This Loot

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Officials of the Chatham YMCA on Chicago's South Side today puzzled over a theft. Someone "lifted" six curved redwood benches and a large patio table from a new outdoor swimming pool.

The "Y" officials are pretty sure the furniture was lifted since the pool is surrounded by an 8-foot high fence topped with barbed wire.

Absolute zero, at which all molecular motion supposedly ceases, exists at 459.9 degrees below Fahrenheit zero.

Schools to be Ready for Big Enrollment

First Phase of Expansion Nears Completion Today

Phase One of the Palm Springs Unified School District's sweeping expansion program was well on its way towards completion today as school officials reported that new classrooms will be ready for a record student enrollment this fall.

Eyeing forecasts that more than 3,500 pupils will enroll in resort area schools, Schools Supt. Wallace Muelder said that construction is nearing completion on 22 new classrooms.

Work is also past the halfway mark on extensive high school site development projects, including paved parking areas, new tennis courts and similar site features.

STILL ON PAPER is Phase Two of an expansion program financed by last year's $2,138,000 bond issue.

This second portion of the school program involves an eight-point building and land acquisition scheduled tailored to meet predicted pupil demands of the immediate future.

Meanwhile, work is proceeding virtually without interruption on 10 high school classrooms, six junior high school classrooms, four Cielo Vista School classrooms and two Cahulla School classrooms.

"WE ARE CONFIDENT that the high school and junior high school classrooms will be ready for occupancy when schools open Sept. 15," said Superintendent Muelder.

The remaining classrooms are apparently completed and require only site development for acceptance.

Muelder also noted "we do not anticipate any problems in completion of the high school site development program."

He reported that the high school parking lots are ready to receive pavement this week and that landscaping will start "at any time."

Next on the district building schedule are such "priority" items as a girls' physical education and health instruction building at the high school and acquisition of a five-acre site for a warehouse and maintenance shop.

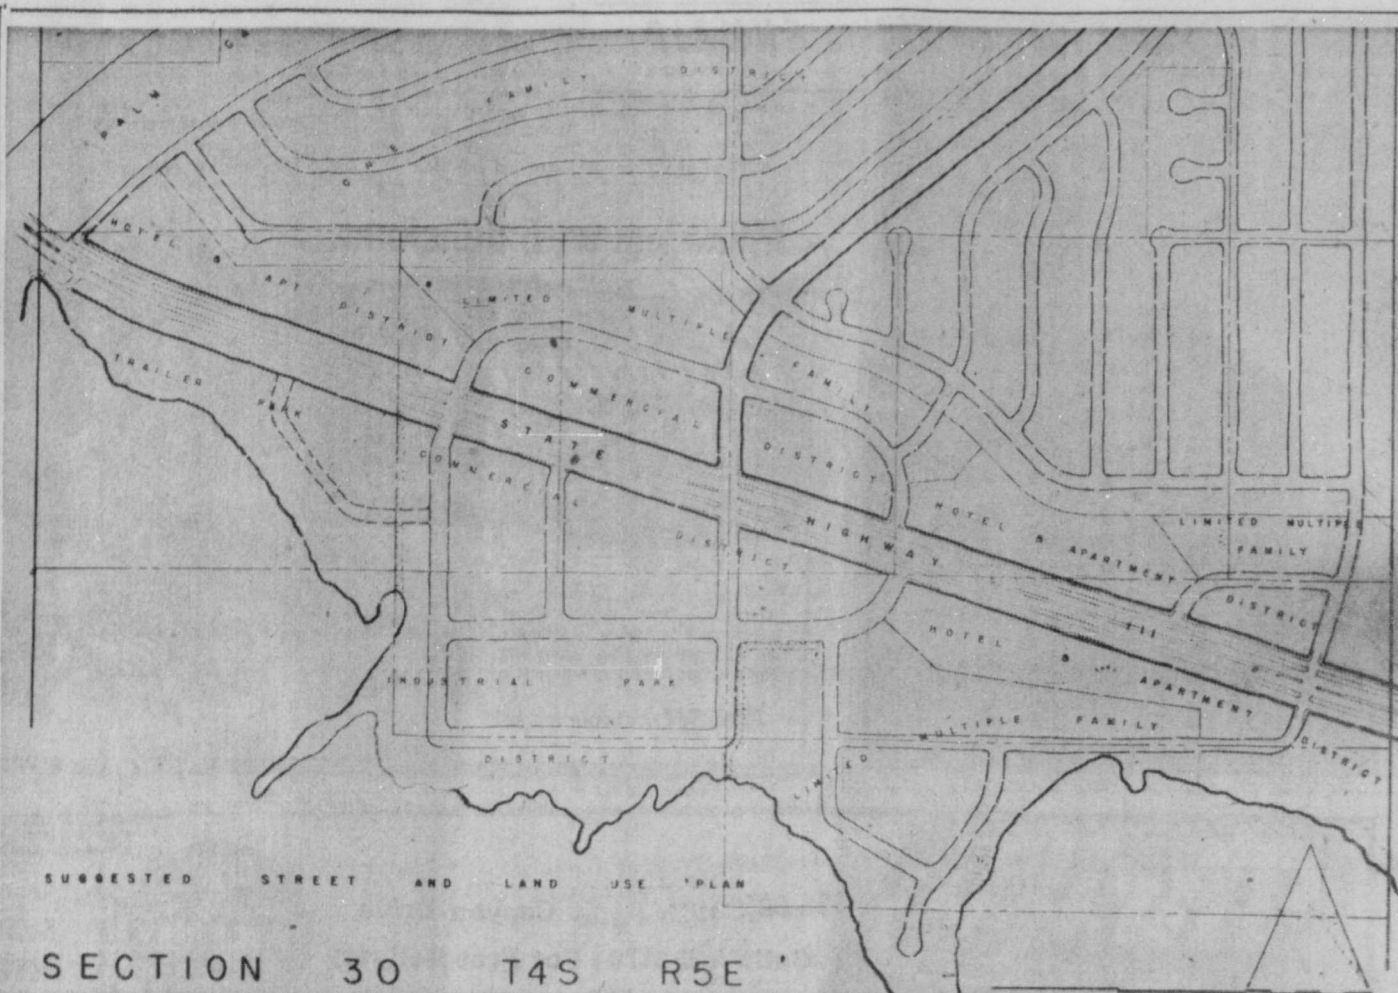

FUTURE ITEMS marked on the program for the second phase of the school bond expansion schedule are construction of the warehouse and maintenance shop, two more classrooms plus additions to wood and metal shops and one kindergarten replacement, fencing bus ports and paving for Cathedral City School.

Other projects include additions to the high school science building, laboratories and classrooms and acquisition of a 10-acre site for construction of a Rancho Mirage elementary school.

Schlecht Named To JayCee Board

Jim Schlecht has been named as a new member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Board of Directors, succeeding Marshall Redman, JayCee President Frank Allen announced today.

Allen also noted that the next JayCee general membership meeting is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. Thursday at the American Legion Hall.

PLANNING COMMISSION members will hold a hearing on September 3 on the street and land use plan for section 30. Above is the plan, drawn up by the Palm Springs Planning department showing land use and topographic conditions that exist, it has been necessary to "do some things that have never been done before," according to city planners.

LAND USE

The new Industrial Park zone would be good in Section 30, a completely new outline of adequate controls and standards will have to be written into the present Zoning Ordinance.

IN THE HEARING on September 3, Commissioners will also hear pro and con testimony on other land uses; i.e. the trailer park on the westerly boundary which will be non-conforming unless zoned for such use; the residential zoning north of the highway; and the proposal for commercial zoning in depth rather than strip or lineal along the highway.

The major street plan for the section had to be figured to coincide with present uses in the section, and man-made features will have a direct bearing upon the ultimate development of the Section. These include the angular alignment of the highway which has created some triangular pieces of property, and the allotment plan, which for the most part parallels the Section Boundaries. Although they are not obstructed by physical features such as a highway or flood channel, they are somewhat a limiting factor in perfecting an efficient and functional plan.

COUNTY ZONING, established prior to incorporation, consists of a strip commercial zoning to a depth of 250 feet on each side of the highway for its full length through Section 30. This method of zoning has already been recognized as obsolete, objectionable, and somewhat dangerous in providing commercial zoning.

Present land uses, developed prior to annexation, are not extensive, but some are highly objectionable and will be non conforming according to the city standards, regardless of what zone is established upon the land.

RANES POINTED OUT in a four page report to the Commission that it is his belief that some of the uses were established illegally or did not conform with the standards as prescribed by the Zoning Ordinance of the County, "and therefore should not enjoy a non-conforming right, even though the land has now changed jurisdiction."

The plan for the Section, as shown on page 8, shows the suggested street plan for the area.

IT CALLS FOR the development of Highway 111 as a four-lane road through the incorporated area, divided by a center island. It will also include emergency and turn-out lanes, and will be contained in a 202-foot right-of-way. For the better movement of traffic, intersection will be limited to every quarter of a mile. The limiting of intersections will provide maximum safety without undue obstruction of traffic flow to and from the highway.

The major north-south street as suggested on the plan on Page 8, will intersect Highway 111 in the center of Section 30. This will be a major connector with other areas of the city lying to the north and northwest of the city.

However, it was pointed out in the report, that adoption of this street would necessitate a revision in the existing Master Plan.

IT IS ALSO advocated in the plan that the single family residences will back up to, rather than face, the major north-south street.

Collector streets in the Section are provided to form a link between the major streets through the area and the future local streets.

The system of local streets, as shown in the map, is only suggestive. There are alternatives to the design of the local street systems. The design as shown, provides a functional system of local streets which takes into account all factors, whether natural or man made, which would influence development of the Section.

Irvines to Move From Desert to Santa Monica

CATHEDRAL CITY — Bob Irvine, who resigned a few weeks ago from the presidencies of the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce and the Cathedral City Board of Realtors, will transfer his civic and academic interests to Santa Monica.

The Irvines came to the desert in 1951 and he taught the sixth grade at Cathedral City School until 1956 when he resigned from the school district, to open his own real estate and insurance office.

Because of his outstanding dedication to the welfare of his students and the boys and girls of the community, Irvine was presented with an Honorary Life Membership in the Parent Teacher Association in 1956. He is past vice president of the Cathedral City PTA.

Last June Irvine made the decision to return to the teaching profession and will be a member of the faculty of Lincoln High School in Santa Monica where he will teach English and Mathematics. He will be spending the weekends in the desert until his wife Amelia, owner of the Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio, settles her business affairs.

Conviction of Teitelbaum Upheld by Appeals Court

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — The state District Court of Appeal today upheld the conviction of Palm Springs furrier Albert Teitelbaum for conspiracy in faking a $250,000 robbery at his Beverly Hills salon on Dec. 27, 1955.

Teitelbaum, 45, was convicted on July 20, 1956, by a Superior Court jury of conspiracy to commit grand theft and filing a false insurance claim.

He was sentenced to a year in county jail and placed on five years' probation but has been free on $5,000 appeal bond.

Dan'l Boone Days Program At Idyllwild Next Month

IDYLLWILD — This pine-studded "recreational center of the San Jacinto Mountains" becomes a deer hunter's paradise next month when the annual "Dan'l Boone Days" program gets underway.

Sponsored by the merchants of Idyllwild, Dan'l Boone Days pays tribute to Southern California deer hunters with a prize - program running from Sept. 20 through Oct. 26, the annual deer hunt season for the Idyllwild area.

The season opens officially after the famed Hunter's Ball, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 19 at the Idyllwild Inn. Midway in the annual hunter's festival is the "Hunter's Stew," Oct. 3 at the Idyllwild Inn.

Cash awards ranging from $25 to $100 await hunters who qualify for various trophy categories.

Prizes include $25 for the first deer checked in at the Idyllwild Ranger Station, $100 for the biggest spread of antlers, $50 for the heaviest deer, $50 for the most points, $50 for the best fawn head and $25 for the smallest deer.

Rules for the contest require hunters to register at the Idyllwild Inn or 101 Ranch on Highway 84 prior to the hunt.

All deer must be killed in the San Jacinto Mountains in order for hunters to qualify for the Dan'l Boone Days contest.

Contest officials urged hunters to "bring along their families" for this year's hunt, pointing out that family accommodations are plentiful in the Idyllwild area.
